The one-stop Find Help in Tough Times center can help you. There are six areas where you will find information about government agencies and organizations with links to online resources.

Find Help in Tough Times is a service of the State Library of Ohio. The State Library of Ohio is a state agency serving government, all types of libraries and residents in Ohio. Services include reference help and statewide virtual resources in the areas of education, workforce development, government documents, consumer health and genealogy.
